MENA Regional
Conference on

Public Health and Infectious Diseases

Beirut, Lebanon
4 – 5 March 2017

For the first time in the MENA region

ESCMID (European Society of Clinical Microbiology and Infectious Diseases), The LANCET Infectious Diseases, Fondation Mérieux, ESA (Ecole Supérieure des Affaires) and AUF (Agence Universitaire de la Francophonie) are pleased to announce:

MENA Regional Conference on

Public Health and Infectious Diseases

Organizing Committee

- Giuseppe Cornaglia, ESCMID, Basel, Switzerland
- John McConnel, The LANCET Infectious Diseases, London, United Kingdom
- Josette Najjar-Pellet, Fondation Mérieux, Beirut, Lebanon
- Stéphane Attali, ESA, Beirut, Lebanon
- Hervé Sabourin, AUF, Moyen-Orient, Beirut, Lebanon

Conference Objectives

The MENA region (Middle East and North Africa) is a hotbed for many well-known and emerging infectious diseases. Due to political instability and migratory flows, the region might contribute greatly to the global spread of infectious diseases. The conference will bring together local scientists and renowned international experts to address this important issue for global health.
